English Lessons:

ELCI are proud to have highly qualified English language teachers who work in high schools in Ireland during the academic year. These teachers bring a wealth of expertise to the summer programme and plan interactive and fun lessons for our students. These lessons focus on communication. With maximum 10 students per class, students build confidence with the language in small groups.

Afternoon Activities:

Where language comes to life! Afternoon activities include kayaking, rafting, horse-riding, surfing, volleyball, archery, rounders, zip-lines.

As most of the activities are team based, students must use English to communicate with each other. Listening skills are also very important as students must listen to staff and activity leaders for instructions. Irish teenagers also participate in all activities.

Evening Activities:

The evenings are an opportunity for students to relax after an active day. Staff, Irish teenagers and students come together to play board games, participate in quizzes, have ping-pong competitions, casino nights or simply watch English movies together.

ELCI Staff

All our staff are high school or primary school teachers with a passion for sport and activities. They bring a wealth of expertise with them which allows ELCI to deliver a unique experience to our students.

Grainne Doherty and Niall Foley, the directors of ELCI, are passionate about providing an unforgettable experience for students. Having worked abroad teaching English for several years they are aware of how important the course is to improve students English language skills.

Our Students

We also encourage our students to take on tasks to build confidence and independence. Those with a higher level of English often team up with students whose fluency isn't as strong to help them get involved in activities.

Our Irish teens have chores to do during the programme and students often help out with those jobs, building a team spirit within the school. All of this leads to an atmosphere of friendship and comradery and our Irish teens are so sad to see the students leave at the end of their stay!

ELCI is located in County Sligo which is famous for its natural beauty and literary history.
The school is on Lough Arrow which 2 hours west of Dublin airport.
